

THE BOURBON NEWS.

SEMI-WEEKLY.

PARIS, BOURBON COUNTY, KENTUCKY: TUESDAY, AUGUST 29, 1882.

NO. 51.

VOL. I.

The small-pox still holds a slight grip on Lexington.

Eight street cars will arrive in Lexington to-day, from Pittsburg.

All enterprising papers sent out Blue Licks supplements last week.

See the advertisement Huntley's dramatic company, for the fair week.

Mr. Dodge, a New York millionaire, is the guest of Capt. J. M. Thomas.

ELD. SWEENEY preached two funerals Sunday—C. V. Higgins, Jr., and Mrs. McLean.

JAS. McCANN, one of our aged and respected citizens, died yesterday, at the age of 81.

J. E. KEEFE is fitting up a room adjoining his confectionery, for the accommodation of his lady customers.

If you want to enjoy yourself at the fair, take a few glasses of Keefe's Cincinnati lager beer before you start.

ED. KLAN, Daum's barber, brought an overcoat and a walnut Christmas gift home from the Cynthiana Fair.

EVERYBODY can be furnished with fresh bread for the fair, at Keefe's bakery one door below the Thurston House.

MIKE DOWD, while coming from Sam McKim's Saturday night, got struck in the head and robbed of a watch and $65 in money.

THAT was a sweet scented squad of drunken bashibazouks that got off the train at Shawhan, while coming from the Cynthiana Fair.

A WATER-SPOUT struck the railroad between here and Maysville yesterday afternoon, and washed away two bridges, in Mason county.

SEE the card of Gen. Buford, elsewhere. Craddock now has a chance for a fight, footrace, or almost any other little convenience asked for.

IF Craddock had only saved the supplements of his exchanges last week, he could have sent out a fair edition of supplements filled with Blue Licks matter.

FRANK OWENS says that Huntington will at once begin and complete the railroad from Newport to Ashland, and then span the Ohio with a bridge for that road and the K. C.

ADMISSION tickets to the 45th annual fair of the Bourbon County Agricultural Society will be on sale at our GOLD FRONT CLOTHING HOUSE each day during the Fair.

WANTED—An able-bodied tramp printer during the fair. None but a first class whiskey-drinker with a two-year-old shirt on need apply. Will pay such a hand three times a day. Apply immediately by railroad tie.

SIXTEEN business men of Lexington, have been arrested on attachment issued by the Judge of Jessamine County Circuit Court, for contempt of court, for not making their appearance as jurors, when summoned last week.

SATURDAY one share of stock in the Bourbon County Agricultural Association of the estate of J. B. Clay, sold for $25. The booth, which cost about $200, sold for $50. Cash Clay bought the booth, and John Northcott the stock.

UP to the hour of going to press this morning, no one has been shot at Cynthiana since last Thursday. Kearns was promptly buried and the three big Irishmen jailed, and the man Hutchison, who got shot in the back, has been moved home.

ON Thursday at 2:30, at the Lexington Fair, a sale of old bachelors will take place in the Floral Hall. Auctioneers Kidd, Edmondson, and Delph will sell all the old bachelors of Lexington under the rules and regulations of the sand-glass.

THE inhabitants of Mt. Airy are talking of building a school house and robbing Prof. W. D. McClintock of his trip to Europe, by placing him in charge of the school. The Prof. being fresh from Johns' Hopkins University as student, and Chautauqua as teacher, is about as polished and competent as any young man in the State.

Officers of all agricultural associations when offering premiums for Jerseys, should not put it "Alderneys." There is not a hoof of Alderney stock in the United States. The island of Alderney is but a small rocky desert isle off the coast of England, and what little stock there is on it is of a mongrel breed. The isle of Jersey, situated near by, is the source of all Jersey stock. For the last seventy years, strict laws have prohibited any cattle stock being brought upon the island—therefore, all cattle coming from the isle of Jersey is the purest of the pure.

Simon Kenton's Amours.

Ever since Adam and Eve walked, slept, hoed stem-winding onions and pared their corns together in the garden of Eden, man has been the victim to woman's wiles and the slave of her charms. She wields a sceptre more potent than that of all other powers combined and her influence over the lords of creation is beyond conception. For her sake wars have been waged, battles fought, kingdoms thrown down, thrones lost and treasures gone away. She has always been the Queen of hearts, shaping them as the potter shapes the clay, and playing with them too often as the cat plays with its victim, first before destroying it's life. For her sake, for her smiles and favor, men freely give up their lives, preferring death to dishonor or their loss. She has fascinated the world by her charms and won adoration and loyalty by her smiles. A beautiful woman is God's most perfect work. She is always an angel or a devil. Her wand waves with the potency of purity or the slime of sensuality.

History says that a calamity befell the early life of tall, red-checked, dashing young Irishman, Simon Kenton, by his sweetheart going back on him. To get revenge on the marriage eve, Simon went to the wedding uninvited and took and a seat between the to-be-married couple, from which position he was bounced and whipped by the groom, Bill Veach. Simon, however abided his time, and almost drubbed the life out of his opponent.

Nor was that all. Simon, it appears from the following rare document, unearthed from its long resting place in our County Clerk's office by Capt. Pate Miller, went into the gay-deceiving business, and came to grief by having been met by a breach of promise suit. We leave the readers to infer how he got out of his trouble, as the case was dismissed by "agree."

THE LEGAL DOCUMENTS.

COMMONWEALTH OF VIRGINIA, COUNTY OF BOURBON, TO WIT:

Justina Ruth complains of Simon Kenton in custody, and of a plea for that whereas he, the said Simon on the day of— in the year of our Lord— then being a person unmarried at the Parish of— in the county aforesaid in consideration that she, the said Justina, then and yet being a person unmarried, at the special instance and request of the said Simon, then and then agreed with the said Simon and then there undertook and faithfully promised the said Simon, that she the said Justina would take the said Simon to be her husband and be coupled with him in lawful matrimony, he the said Simon undertook and then there faithfully promised the said Justina that he, the said Simon would take the said Justina to be his wife and be coupled with her in lawful matrimony, and altho' she the said Justina hath always been ready and willing from the time of making the said promise and undertaking to take to husband and be married to the said Simon at the Parish and county aforesaid according to the tenor of her said promise and undertaking, nevertheless the said Simon not regarding his said promise and undertaking, but contriving and fraudulently intending craftily and subtly to deceive and injure the said Justina in this particular, and totally to hinder and preclude the said Justina of her preferment in marriage hath not taken the said Justina to wife according to his said promise and undertaking, made to that purpose as aforesaid, but the said Simon hath hitherto totally refused to do altho' he, the said Simon aforesaid, was on the day of— in the year of our Lord— and often times before and after said Justina, he the said Simon always hitherto hath refused and still doth refuse so to do, whereby the said Justina declares herself injured and endangered to the value of £1,000 and therefore brings suit.

T. MARSHALL, Jr., for Ptf.
I. Doe, Pledges.
R. Roe.

The Commonwealth of Virginia: To the sheriff of Bourbon county, greeting— You are commanded to take Simon Kenton, if he be found within your Bailiwick, and him safely keep so that you have his body before the Justices of your county at the Court-house, on the third Tuesday in March next, to answer Justina Ruth, of a plea of Trespass on the Case Damage £1,000, and have then and there this Writ Witness John Edwards Clerk of said Court at the Commonwealth 23d day of November 1787 and 12th year of the Commonwealth. JOHN EDWARDS.

On the back of the writ a return was made as follows: "This writ executed on Simon Kenton but no Gail to confine him in."

P. Moore, D. S. R. C."

Also, on the back of the writ memorandums were made showing the case having been called and continued at several terms of court, and finally "Dismissed agreed" in October 1788.

A wedding ceremony was performed in three languages, at Cleveland, Ohio, Saturday. The groom will try to cuss in six languages before the year is out.

The side-show of the Big U. S. circus, with the frizzly headed Circassian girl, is taking in all the Kentucky fairs.

The nearest road to a man's heart is through his stomach.

Twelve Reasons Why.

The Harrison County Agricultural and Horse Trotting Association will lose money this year. If the young officers of this association will tear off their badges and play country citizen just one year, they will absorb the important information all other visitors do. First, that their fair grounds are located in a spot which is ten degrees hotter than the balance of the United States. Second, that it is hard to stretch a three-days' exhibition through five days without showing up many thin spots in all the days. Fourth, that their crowd is always a local one, and three days at fifty cents each is about as much as an attendant cares to spend on a prosier exhibition than a circus. Fifth, that nobody cares for anything but the races, and that the religious portion of the show is merely a shallow sham. Sixth, that without the concerted action of all neighboring newspapers, to scatter information among the people that a certain thing expects their patronage at a certain place at a certain time, there is but a small show for drawing anything but a small local crowd. Seventh, that St. Louis cannot draw a crowd on the first day of their fair. Eighth, that the first and second days ought to be wiped from all fair catalogues, and the days be numbered as 3rd, 4th and 5th, to suit the "gillies" who attend fairs to act fools and always be in the way. Ninth, that three fairs are enough for the State. Tenth, that people are becoming too civilized for fairs anyway. Eleventh, that there won't be a fair in any but the frontier States within twenty years. Twelfth, that the weather ought to be changed so as to suit the Cynthiana Fair.

SOCIETY SCINTILLATIONS.

Vanity is the quickest of reason. Hal Brent is here from Kansas City. A delicate thought is the flower of the mind.

Mrs. Ollie Smith has arrived to attend the fair.

Yellow flowers trim dark green and black straw bonnets. The energies of the soul slumber in the vague reveries of hopes.

A fool always finds some one more foolish than he to admire him.

Mrs. Rev. J. M. Evans returned from a visit to St. Louis, Saturday.

Recollection is the only paradise out of which we cannot be driven.

Envy lurks at the bottom of the human heart, like a viper in its hole.

All truths are not to be uttered; still it is not always good to hear them.

Natural flowers have entirely superseded artificial ones for trimming dresses.

The newest cloth goods have round spots as large as the palm of a lady's hand.

Prof. Lockhart and almost all of the Old Point Comfort excursionists have returned home.

The devil has got a pretty firm hold on many a young man, just because he carried a night-key.

If base-ball players, instead of mechanics, would go on strikes the country couldn't stand it.

Gen. Abe Buford says he's bound to get married before winter. He can't stand it any longer.

Dark and black straw hats will be much worn with all sorts of costumes, including very bright colored ones.

Miss Tillie Brent of this place has gone to Lake Chautauqua, in company with Judge O'Hara and wife, of Covington.

Among the growing innovations in modern fashions the wearing of velvet in all seasons, not excepting midsummer.

If a cheerful heart is a continual feast, there must be a large number of people who do not get a square meal once a year.

From appearances, we are going to have a regular "Josie" fair. The black velvet ones are pretty and are not so dazy and dazzy as the brilliant cardinal satin ones.

When Nelse Roland straddles a horse and bows his form like the half of a barrel hoop, that is a guarantee that there's a string, and in nine cases out of ten, a blue.

Two elegant widows—Mrs. Margaret Glass, and Mrs. Pattie McGowan, formerly Mrs. Gen. Buford, nee, Pattie Duke, of Scott county, are the guests of Mrs. C. C. Leer, of this precinct.

When a flock of bad husbands arrive at White Sulphur Spring on Saturday nights, there is generally a large skip-out of gay mashers for some of the neighbor-watering places the next morning.

Miss Nannie Megibben took the premium in the ladies' driving ring at Cynthiana, over Miss Nannie Redmon and Mrs. Josh Barton, of Bourbon. Miss Megibben drove Wilson's Lady Dejanett, and the others drove horses belonging here on earth.

Thos. Costello, representing Griffith Bro's, wholesale milliners of Indianapolis and Dayton, writes that he will be here on or about the 1st of September, with a magnificent line of samples. He is now in the South, and is having a very successful trip.

The prettiest lady in attendance of the Cynthiana Fair, was a rosy-cheeked brunette, with eyes as black and sparkling as two lumps of anthracite coal, and her hair as black and glossy as a raven's wing. She wore a buff lawn dress, a yellow straw hat trimmed in rich straw-colored lace. She was from Paris.

Charlie Leer has just returned from a trip to the Mammoth Cave, and is highly elated with his delightful visit. He says that the cave is the only thing he has met so far, that will compare to Barnes, in grandeur and magnificence. In fact, Charlie has almost quit talking Barnes, and is making a cave monopoly.

The Trader, Turfman, Farmer and Sportsman.

The highest offer for stock hogs yet noticed is ten cents, in Pendleton.

A field of twenty acres yielded 800 bushels of wheat in Woodford county.

We are not going to have any of that "Tie-it-on-the-bay," nonsense at our fair.

Half of the wheat crop in Carroll county is still unthreshed for lack of threshing machines.

There are over 600,000 acres under cultivation in tobacco in the United States, and the crop is valued at from $40,000,000 to $50,000,000.

Garrett Mann, of near Millersburg, wants to feed down 16 acres of green corn to hogs. The field is well watered, and is on the Nimrod Wood farm, three miles north of town.

The officers of the Bourbon County Agricultural Association have adopted a resolution prohibiting betting and gaming of all kinds on their grounds, and will positively enforce it.

J. H. Richardson, of Fleming county, after harvesting his wheat crop, put the same land in corn, which is growing finely and bids fair to mature a splendid yield.

A horse book with 65 illustrations, and recipes for treatment of all diseases—the best book published on the horse, given away to every cash subscriber to the News.

Mr. Tip Bruce, of Danville, Ky., sold to F. W. Davis, of Greenville, S. C., his brown stallion Mambrino Happy, by Garrard Chief, son of Mambrino Chief, dam by Frank. Price said to be $800.

A man named Wodsworth, in North Carolina, raised 41½ bushels of wheat and 108 bushels of oats to the acre—averaging a large crop at those figures. Another farmer in the same county raised 15,000 bushels of oats.

At the Cynthiana trotting races Saturday, Wick won in three straight heats, with Nannie Talbott second. Time, 2:41.

The running race was probably the prettiest ever run on that track. Snowbox and Saunterer ran two heats in which a blanket would have covered them all the way around. Snowbox won both heats by half a nose. Time, 1:50½.

STAYED or STOLEN.

From my residence near Millersburg, on Saturday, August 19th, a dark chestnut sorrel mare, about eight years old. She has a heavy mane and tail, and carries her head low, and has a white spot on her back about on a line with the girth.

Any information given me of her whereabouts will be thankfully received. JACKSON GOFF, Millersburg, Ky.

TO THE PEOPLE.

As a Piano and Organ builder of nineteen years' experience, I offer my services to the residents of Bourbon and surrounding counties. I guarantee strict factory work, and will make this part of Kentucky my permanent home, if you will appreciate my labors among you, by keeping me at work.

I cheerfully refer you to Professors Gutzeit and Sanders, and a host of other friends of this city—made by good work.

Respectfully, JULIAN OSTENDORFF.

Notice.

I have been called to Lancaster, Ky., on professional business, and will be there two or three weeks.
